Welcome to our 5th annual sale!

As I sit here writing this welcome letter, we are well into calving and getting excited about next year. But first, welcome to Lehrman Family Simmentals 5th annual sale.

This year’s set of bulls has something for everyone – from heifer bull prospects to herd sires. Here at LEFS, we also sort for docility. We try to use as many of the new sires as we can and some of the old reliable stand-bys.

We started to use a cooperator herd this year to expand our ET program. We would like to thank the Steve Van Gorp family for the great job they did this year as our cooperator. Also, we would like to thank the cattle team from Northwest Vet Clinic. Dr. Eric and his chute crew for the excellent care of our herd.

The bred heifers come right off the top of our replacements. It was difficult to see some the girls go. As my son Jeremy told me, you have to sell some of the good ones to show what your program is all about. A good share of the heifers will have calves at side by sale day. The ones we have at this time are really looking good.

Thank you from all of us at LEFS for your interest and confidence in our program

Dan, Bill, Randy and our families

Bull Buyer’s Guide

Explanation of How to Utilize API and TI Indexes
First, determine which index to use; if you’re keeping replacements use API, if not, TI. Then, just as with EPDs, zero in on the unit difference between bulls. (As described to the left, index units are in dollars per cow exposed.) The difference can be used to determine how much a bull is worth compared to another. Or, put another way, how much you can pay for one bull compared to another. For example, when buying an all-purpose-type sire, you can quickly figure a bull scoring +100 for API is worth an extra $6,000 over a $50 bull if both are exposed to 30 cows over 4 years ($50 diff. x 30 hd. x 4 yr. = $6,000). A percentile-ranking chart is required to determine where a bull’s index value ranks him relative to other bulls in the breed. For more information, visit www.simmental.org.
